Great Britain Counts Germany Twice Loser Today

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Great Britain counted Germany twice a loser today—balked both by the signing of an Anglo-French mutual assistance pact with Turkey and by bad weather on the Western Front.
Responsible British sources argued that the treaty signed at Ankara last night had blocked penetration of German influence in the Balkans, particularly Rumania.

ALLIED-TURK TREATY STUNS NAZI GERMANY

Believe Pact May Lead To Reprecussions In Balkans
BERLIN, Oct. 20.—The German political world appeared to be stunned today by the 15-year Anglo-French mutual assistance pact signed yesterday between the allies and Turkey.

Nazi circles professed to believe that the pact might lead to reprecussions in the Balkan countries; but how far the neutrality of Balkan states might be affected was not clear.

One German view on the pact was that the clause exempting Turkey from the obligation of fighting Russia is a "sly trick" which will make Turkish help to the allies ineffective.

Signing NOT MENTIONED
No Berlin morning newspaper mentioned signing of the pact.

The opinion was expressed that the Balkans would see Turkey's action a renunciation of desire to safeguard neutrality.

LOOK TO ITALY
Those quarters said they looked to Italy to react, as a Mediterranean power, and expressed the opinion that the treaty was sufficient cause to bring about Italio-Russian cooperation similar to that between Russia and Germany.

BRITAIN SAYS GERMANY NOW TWICE LOSER

gression pact has existed since 1925.

NO OFFICIAL REACTION

(There was no official reaction in Moscow but foreign circles there saw the tripartite treaty as Russia's first defeat in her diplomatic "victories" over neighboring states. It was regarded also as a curb on any possible Russian plan to give military aid to Germany and on Russian aims in the Balkans.)

Members of parliament, who loudly cheered Prime Minister Chamberlain's announcement that the pact had been signed, acclaimed it as a victory for British diplomacy after what, in Mr. Chamberlain's words, was the "bombshell" thrown into the allied camp by the Russo-German non-aggression pact last Aug. 24.

PRACTICAL ADVANTAGES

Among the strategical and practical advantages expected by diplomatic circles were:

- 1—Increased protection for British interests in Egypt and Palestine.
- 2—The maintenance of Turkey's role as guardian of the Dardanelles, strategic gateway to the Black Sea.

neutrality by the Scandinavian states on the same day may make Oct. 19 one of the most historically memorable dates of the war.

"For yesterday not only did the Scandinavian group in the north demonstrate their solidarity but the guardian of the Black Sea made her intention clear.

CONTROL ESSENTIAL

Two land masses, Scandinavia and Turkey, sweep down like two great arms, outflanking the central continent. Control of these arms is

The huge semi-circular line drawn from Scandinavia through Britain and France to Turkey "is capable of denying an aggressor access to the west," the paper said.

BALANCE OF POWER

"The balance of power in the Mediterranean shifts in favor of the Allies. In Turkey, who now returns to Europe, the democracies have a powerful and trusted

The News Chronicle said that Britain and France, "by their firm front against aggression in Europe, already have provided a rallying point for other smaller countries which have all along desired a world of peace and order. Now Turkey has made it plain that in southern Europe she has taken up a similar position and the Balkan states may well find new cohesion and new strength as a result."

Greece Hail Treaty

BUDAPEST, Oct. 29. — The mutual assistance pact linking Turkey with Great Britain and France was hailed in Greece, Rumania and Yugoslavia today as a bulwark against territorial demands by other countries.

In Hungary and Bulgaria, however, there was unfavorable reaction to the clause allying Turkey with the western democracies if war should result over Anglo-France disaster to Greece and Rumania. Hungary and Bulgaria have not given up hope of regaining the Transylvania and Dobruja territories lost to Rumania after the last war.

NEW NATIONAL POLICY

Sofia dispatches attributed yesterday's Bulgarian cabinet resignation directly to the need of a new national policy as a result of the Turkish action.

The Bulgarian press expressed belief that revisionist dreams of that Hungarian papers, under strict government control, devoted most of their columns to the treaty relations of the entire world—except Hungary.

Victory For Allies is Necessary For U.S., Senate Is Informed

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—A Vermont Republican told the United States senate Thursday that victory for Great Britain and France in the second great war is "necessary for the peace and security of the United States."

Debate on the neutrality measure was thrown into a brief flurry of excitement when Warren E. Austin interpreted a speaker to declare there was no reason to hide the fact that the arms embargo would aid the allies.

Under the bill, sales of arms and munitions would be made to belligerents on a cash-and-carry basis. The move would favor the allies as Britain has control of the Atlantic ocean.

TOTALITARIAN MENACE

Possibility of Canada and British or French islands in the western hemisphere coming under the subjugation of totalitarian aggression was held out as a menace to this country by Senator Austin.

By a victory for the allies, Austin said he meant, "the stopping of aggression, the stopping of penetration of our country with the ideas that undermine our government, the stopping of events that might lead to occupation of Canada, the islands off our coast and of Latin-America by totalitarian nations, engaged in efforts to dominate the world."

Senator Alben Barkley, Democratic house leader, also brought a note of reality to the debate. He said it would be "cowardly" of the United States to refrain from amending its own laws because of fear of sabotage or attack if this country became a war supply base for belligerents.

REFUTES TO BORAH

Barkley was replying to an expression of apprehension by Senator William Borah, Idaho Republican, earlier in the debate that if the United States manufactured arms for belligerents those who have no facilities to take advantage of repeal would attempt acts of retaliation.

"I support this bill, not because we are weak or naive or cowardly," said Barkley. "I support it because we are strong and we are afraid, and with us to conserve our strength and courage for the service of the Democratic ideal here in America and throughout the world."

CANUCKS ARE VERY BRITISH AUSSIES FIND

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Canadians are "very British," have pleasant accents, keep their buildings too hot inside and too cold outside, and are totally unaware of the pleasure to be had eating eggs along with steak.

Such is the opinion of Canada and Canadians gathered from a group of 17 Australian students in the faculty of dentistry at the University of Toronto.

Anglo-Franco-Turkish Assistance Pact Text

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Following is the text of the Anglo-Franco-Turkish mutual assistance treaty signed at Ankara Thursday.

The president of the French republic, His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British dominions beyond the seas, Emperor of India (in respect of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland), and the president of the Turkish republic.

Who, having communicated their full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

ARTICLE 1

2.—In the event of an act of aggression by a European power leading to war in the Mediterranean area in which Turkey is involved, France and the United Kingdom will collaborate effectively with Turkey and will lend it all aid and assistance in its power.

ARTICLE 3

So long as the guarantees given by France and the United Kingdom to Greece and Rumania, by the respective declarations of the 13th of April, 1938, remain in force, Turkey will co-operate effectively with France and the United Kingdom and will lend them all aid and assistance in its power, in the event of France and the United Kingdom being engaged in hostilities in virtue of either of the said guarantees.

ARTICLE 4

In the event of France and the United Kingdom being involved in hostilities with a European power in consequence of aggression committed by that power against either of these states without the provisions of articles 1 or 3 being applicable, the high contracting parties will immediately consult together.

It is nevertheless agreed that in such an eventuality Turkey will observe at least a benevolent neutrality towards France and the United Kingdom.

ARTICLE 5

Without prejudice to the provisions of article 4 above, in the event of either:

1.—Aggression by a European power against another European state which the government of one of the high contracting parties had, with the approval of that state, undertaken to assist in maintaining its independence or neutrality against such aggression, or

2.—Aggression by a European power which, while directed against another European state, constituted in the opinion of the government of one of the high contracting parties, a menace to its own security.

The high contracting parties will immediately consult together with a view to such common action as might be considered effective.

ARTICLE 6

The present treaty is not directed against any country, but is designed to assure France, Great Britain and Turkey of mutual aid and assistance in resistance to aggression.

done in resistance to aggression should the security arise.

The provisions of the present treaty are equally binding as to liberal obligations between Turkey and each of the two other high contracting parties.

ARTICLE 8

ARTICLE 9

The present treaty shall be ratified and the instruments of ratification shall be deposited simultaneously at Ankara as soon as possible. It shall enter into force on the date of deposit.

The present treaty is concluded for a period of 15 years. If none of the high contracting parties has notified the two others of its intention to determine it six months before the expiration of the said period, the treaty will be renewed by tacit consent for a further period of five years, and so on.

In witness whereof the undersigned have signed the present treaty and have thereto affixed their seals.

Done at Ankara, in triplicate, the 13th October, 1939.

R. Maugill, H. M. Kitchin-Hughes, Dr. Refik Saydam.

PROTOCOL NO. 1

The undersigned plenipotentiaries state that their respective governments agree that the instrument of mutual assistance dated this day shall be put into force from the moment of its signature.

PROTOCOL NO. 2

At the moment of signature of the treaty of mutual assistance between France, Great Britain and Turkey, the undersigned plenipotentiaries duly authorized to this effect, have agreed as follows:

The obligations undertaken by Turkey in virtue of the above-mentioned treaty cannot compel Turkey to act in a manner having as its effect, or involving as its consequence, entry into armed conflict with the U.S.S.R.

The present protocols shall be considered as an integral part of the treaty of mutual assistance concluded today between France, Great Britain and Turkey.

Done at Ankara, in triplicate, the 13th October, 1939.

Irish Republican Army, Unemployment Are Two Of Eire's Big Troubles

Eire's government faces two major problems—unemployment and the activities of the Irish Republican army—stated Ronald Martland, prominent Edmonton barrister, who returned this week from a lengthy visit to Northern Ireland and the Irish Free State.

Mr. and Mrs. Martland and their daughter Patricia sailed from Liverpool on the Canadian Pacific liner Barbados of last week on October 7 in an uneventful but arduous voyage across the Atlantic.

Unemployment in the Free State is directly attributable to the war, Mr. Martland stated. Large supplies of raw materials have been cut off from newly-created Irish industries, resulting in thousands of men being thrown out of employment. This situation has been further aggravated by the influx of a great number of young Irishmen from Britain who left that country rather than be conscripted in the British army.

I.R.A. ALARMS
Activities of the Irish Republican Army are causing alarm, stated Mr. Martland. These are directed at the breaking down of the Ulster partition and the return of the whole of Ireland to the United Kingdom. The I.R.A. is also working for the return of the whole of Ireland to the United Kingdom. The I.R.A. is also working for the return of the whole of Ireland to the United Kingdom.

The Free State's official policy is to remain neutral in the war, but it is realized this policy may be forced impossible to maintain.

An I.R.A. proclamation was going about, but the average Irishman in Eire regards it with the utmost contempt of the Englishman.

At three years ago, the Irish are now in a state of war with England if the Atlantic divided their country from Europe, stated Mr. Martland.

AIR DEFENCES
Aircraft defenses are being built up and there is a good deal of pride in the army, which is small, but well equipped on a side station that is capable of training a man army in a short time if supplies are available.

But to the southern Irishman these precautions seem far-fetched. Eire has its own problem and is

PROTEST MADE OVER PROPOSAL ON SALES TAX

Edmonton Taxpayers' Protective Association, at a meeting Thursday night in the public library, decided to protest against a suggestion of A.C. B. Peterson that the city should the 8 per cent. war tax on electric power. The suggestion is being studied by commissioners.

Speakers of the association said that if the commissioners did not bear the tax, it would be borne by property taxes which already were too high.

Chairman of the meeting was Dr. G. J. Hope and guest speakers were Mr. W. F. K. Fyfe, A.C. B. Peterson and School Trustee A. E. Ottewill.

Property taxes have increased in the next few years, provided the war did not interfere too much, the mayor believed. He said he did not wish to make excessive promises but "I always try to accomplish more than I promise."

There was special need for a new city hall high school to relieve overcrowding at Westmount and to eliminate the fire hazard of the Glenora frame school building, Dr. Ottewill said.

Ald. Caselman, in a brief talk, pointed against the provincial government not paying taxes on property it owned in the city.

THE QUESTION
Do you agree with Fritz Kreier, world famous violinist, that the present generation is devoid of romanticism?

THE ANSWERS
I.R.A. SEWAGE, hockey coach and businessman: I agree with Kreier. Young people today are too matter-of-fact and too material. They become sophisticated at too early an age. A little more romanticism would do both young and old people a lot of good today. They would forget their troubles and look upon life with rosyer glasses.

DONALD DIWIER, Macdonald hotel employee: Like the great Fritz Kreier, I am sorry for the young people today. They do not appear to have the time or the opportunity to indulge in a little romanticism. When the adults of today were children they enjoyed more leisure, quieter good times, and a lot of romantic life.

HEAN BENNETT, student: Kreier is right when he says there is no romanticism for young people today. From the time they are faced with serious things, leaving no time for the romantic. The romantic things that father and mother and grandpa and grandpa used to do are no longer in vogue.

STRUGGLE FOR LIBERTIES IS SPEECH TOPIC

Lieut.-Gov. Bowen traces history at church club meet.

Search for freedom and the attainment of a larger measure of civil liberties for the individual form two of the main threads of the history, Hon. J. C. Bowen, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, told the men's club at Robertson United Church Thursday night.

Frank Pike, president of the club was chairman of the meeting.

Mr. Bowen, who devoted the main part of his speech to a review of British history, made a long reference to the present war as the concluding portion of his remarks. He said the struggle had been before in its struggles for liberty and he believed it would not fall now.

DIVINE RIGHT
Speaking on "British Citizenship," Mr. Bowen traced the struggle waged by parliament to control the doctrine of the divine right of kings.

He said that as a result of the victorious struggle the position of the monarchy had been lowered, but perhaps even stronger still, the king stood as the symbol of the nation's highest ideals and deepest loyalties.

One of the great qualities of the British parliament, he continued, is its refusal to be swayed by propaganda. He said the courage of

"Pounding Pole" Rates Niche In Hall of Fame

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Release of Al Simmons by Cincinnati Reds provides another strong candidate for baseball's hall of fame, for the Milwaukee Pole was a mighty man in his heyday with Connie Mack's last great club at Philadelphia.

Unfortunately for his chances of entering the Cooperstown pantheon, Al has hung on in the big leagues a few years longer than he needed to, either for Cincinnati or elsewhere, and he was no gelling, gentle, toward the last but when the boys have forgotten that and still spending on Simmons' salary over the fat years, they will find it somewhat difficult to give him out of the speaker's hall.

The latest that Al hit in his eight big seasons with the Athletics was .311, and that was in his first year, 1924. Thereafter he compiled success averages of .286, .243, .292, .311, .288, .281, .280 and .312. In 1934, when will rust his prime, he averaged .260 but hit .341 for Chicago White Sox.

ON TOP TWICE
Twice the big outfielder led the American League in hitting: twice he led the pack in total big and small bases, and twice drove more runs than any rival. In three world series he compiled an average of .333, which led in the playoffs.

The country's dominant major league batsman of his time, Al Simmons in his prime carried a lasting influence on the design of bats. At the time Al began to outsize the ball the almost universal favorite was a rather short, straight bat.

Simmons came up with a long thin model. Then there was a counter-rush to the slender style. They still are the most popular.

SKI PAYOFF
A $10,000 prize in the "Simmons" contest, awarded to the winner of the contest, was won by a contestant who had a beautiful last shot photo.

TABLE TENNIS WINTER SEASON OPENS MONDAY

All leagues of the ETTA will be in operation by the end of this week. The season begins Monday with all the old teams and some new ones beginning play for the Howard League season. The executive has decided a team that will compete a new team, the "Pounding Pole" team, will be formed in the final game of the recent world series.

UNITED STATES PLANE ORDERS SET NEW MARK

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The War Street Journal says orders obtained by 11 major United States aircraft manufacturers in the last few weeks have boosted the companies' backlog of orders to a record level of $14,000,000, or 35 per cent greater than the previous peak for the industry.

The new business came principally from the United States Army and Navy, domestic and foreign airlines and from foreign governments, the paper said.
